1 CULTURAL PERSPECTIVES ON EROSION AND SEDIMENTATION ISSUES

Erosion and sedimentation issues in Peru Carlos A.Llerena 3
Erosion research and control in Japan Aritsune Takei 15

2 GEOMORPHIC AND HYDROLOGIC DYNAMICS OF ZERO-ORDER BASINS

Overview: "zero-order basins" and problems of drainage density, sediment transport and hillslope morphology W.E.Dietrich, S.L.Reneau & C.J.Wilson 27

Size and location of colluvial landslides in a steep forested landscape Steven L.Reneau & William E.Dietrich 39

The contribution of bedrock groundwater flow to storm runoff and high pore pressure development in hollows C.J.Wilson & W.E.Dietrich 49

Hydrogeomorphological characteristics of a zero-order basin Yoshinori Tsukamoto & Hirohiko Minematsu 61

Subsurface pipeflow dynamics of north-coastal California swale systems Robert R.Ziemer & Jeffrey S.Albright 71

Bedrock geometry of unchannelized valleys L.Dengler, A.K.Lehre & C.J.Wilson 81

Rates of soil creep on colluvium-mantled hillslopes in north-central California A.K.Lehre 91

A dynamic model of slope stability in zero-order basins R.C.Sidle 101

Zero-order basins shaped by debris flows, Sunol, California, USA Christopher S.Alger & Stephen D.Ellen 111

3 LANDSLIDES AND OTHER MASS-MOVEMENT PROCESSES

 Experimental study of slope failure caused by heavy rainfall  Teruki Fukuzono  133

 Tombi landslide and its impact on the Joganji River, Japan  Shunji Ouchi  135

 Ontake landslide of September 14, 1984, in Japan  Yoshifumi Hara & Akio Yazawa  137

 Initiation and mechanics of debris avalanches on steep forest slopes  Antony R. Orme  139

 Effects of timber harvesting on progressive hillslope deformation in southwest Oregon  Douglas N. Swanston, G.W. Lienkaemper, R.C. Mersereau & A.B. Levno  141

 Forest distribution used as an erosion indicator on large-scale landslide scars  Hiroshi Omura & Seiji Mochizuki  143

 Forested block slides in the lower Redwood Creek basin, northwest California  Ronald Sonnevil, Randy Klein, Darcia Short & William Weaver  145

 Earthquake-induced debris-flow features in neovolcanic mountains  So Anma, Hiromu Maikuma, Shigeyasu Okusa, Yukinori Fujita & Shigeru Aoki  147

 The influence of forest on landslide activity  H.F.H. Mulder, T.W.J. Van Asch & E.E.W. Weiss  149

 Studies on applying earth electrical resistance surveys in Taiwan  Chen Hsin-Heiung  151

4 DEBRIS FLOW DYNAMICS AND PROCESSES

 The physics of debris flows -- a conceptual assessment  R.M. Iverson & R.P. Denlinger  155

 Estimation of debris flow hydrograph on varied slope bed  T. Takahashi, H. Nakagawa & S. Kuang  167

 Computer simulation of debris flow depositional processes  T. Mizuyama, A. Yazawa & K. Ido  179

 Mechanisms of debris supply to steep channels along Howe Sound, southwest British Columbia  Michael J. Bovis & Bruce R. Dagg  191

 The critical rainfall (danger index) for disasters caused by debris flows and slope failures  Sumiji Kobashi & Masakazu Suzuki  201
Sediment routing by debris flow  Lee Benda & Thomas Dunne 213

A large-scale debris avalanche as an episode in slope-channel processes K. Okunishi, S. Okuda & H. Suwa 225

Erosion processes and effects of debris flow Kang Zieheng & Li Jing 233

Mobilization of debris flows from shallow slides Stephen D. Ellen, Robert W. Fleming & Homa J. Lee 243

5  INFILTRATION AND SURFACE EROSION IN NATURAL AND MANAGED SYSTEMS

Experimental study on the phenomena of rain infiltration Masaki Tominaga 247

A hydromechanical erosion model for surface-mined areas Kuang-Jung Tsai 249

Sediment yield from bare slopes due to landslides in central Japan Kunio Mizuhara & Keiji Ohte 251

Assessment of transferability of USLE to Taiwan Sheng Lewis Liang, Jeng-Chuan Liou & Jing-Chuen Huang 253

A study on erosion of lateritic soil of Linkou Terrace R. H. Chen & J. S. Yang 255

Soil losses and runoff rates from the forested watersheds in Korea Bo-Myeong Woo 257

Increased sedimentation following helicopter logging and prescribed burning on granitic soil Walter F. Megahan 259

Sediment yields and surface runoff from six types of agroforestry at Mae-klong Watershed Research Station, Kanchanaburi, Thailand Pradermahai Saengkoovong 261

Test of a surface runoff and soil erosion model for forest road surfaces Weihau Zhang & Terrance W. Cundy 263

Estimating discharge and sediment yield from a forest road Yoshihiro Fukushima 265

Erosional effects of road construction in Pi-Lu Experimental Watershed Yuan-Lin Lin 267

Erosion and sediment transport by windthrow in a mountain beech forest, New Zealand Scott F. Burns & Philip J. Tonkin 269
A sedimentological approach to examining sediments/soils on hillslopes: examples from Papua New Guinea and Australia
Geoff S. Humphreys

6 EFFECTS OF FIRE ON GEOMORPHIC PROCESSES AND FEATURES

Postfire sediment movement by debris flows in the Santa Ynez Mountains, California
Wade G. Wells, II, Peter M. Wohlgemuth, Allan G. Campbell & Frank H. Weirich

Post-fire response of boulder-bed channel
A.G. Campbell, P.M. Wohlgemuth & W.G. Wells

Relationships between channel morphology, unit stream power, and sediment routing and storage in a steep, bedrock controlled channel
Joan L. Florsheim & E.A. Keller

Temporal and spatial variability of sediment storage and erosion in Ash Creek, Arizona
Michael D. Harvey, John Pitlick & Jeffrey Laird

Sediment transport and deposition by fire-related debris flows in southern California
Frank H. Weirich

7 SEDIMENT TRANSPORT AND CHANNEL MORPHOLOGY

Overview: Channel morphology and sediment transport in steepland streams
T.E. Lisle

Initial motion of coarse sediment in streams of high gradient
P.L. Wiberg & J.D. Smith

Critical conditions for bed material movement in steep, boulder-bed streams
James C. Bathurst

Modelling bed-load transport in steep mountain streams
J.G. Whittaker

Bed load transfer and channel morphology in braided streams
Peter Ashmore

The influence of large organic debris on channel recovery in the Queen Charlotte Islands, British Columbia, Canada
D.L. Hogan

Influence of river channel morphology and sediment production on residence time and transport distance
P. Nakamura, T. Araya & S. Higashi

Geomorphic influences on sediment transport in the Willamette River
P.C. Klingeman
New models of hydrological and stream channel relationships  J.F. Orsborn & J.M. Stypula  375

Hydraulics and transport at high fine sediment loads  Jeffrey B. Bradley  385

Response of bed topography to increased bed load, Fall River, Colorado  Deborah J. Anthony & Michael D. Harvey  387

Incised channel and terrace formation near Mount St. Helens, Washington  Alasdair D.M. Paine, David F. Meyer & Stanley A. Schumm  389

Tributary entrenchment in response to lowered base level below a dam  Dru Germanoski & Dale F. Ritter  391

Predicting channel responses to changing flow regimes: Beaver Creek, Alaska  William L. Jackson & Bruce P. Van Haveren  393

Lichenometric dating applied to flood deposits  Paul A. Carling  395

Drainage basin characteristics affecting sediment discharge from steep mountain basins  Takeshi Mizutani  397

Hydrological regime and fluvial processes in basaltic mountainous areas  Moshe Inbar  399

Discharge and suspended sediment of the upper Nan River, Nan Province, Thailand  Warin Jirasuktaveekul, Suphot Charoensuk & Somarn Rouysungnern  401

Effects of woody debris removal on sediment storage in a northwest California stream  Randy Klein, Ronald Sonnevil & Daricia Short  403

Stream channel response to the removal of large woody debris, Larry Damm Creek, northwestern California  Anne MacDonald & Edward A. Keller  405

Slackwater habitat in torrent-impacted streams  Philip R. Kaufmann  407

Conservation of fish habitat in streams by the method of low dams series  Goichiro Takahashi & Saburo Higashi  409

Sediment transport and deposition zones in braided streams  Karen L. Prestegaard  411

Changes in sediment storage over time on a coastal California river  W.V. Graham Matthews & G. Mathias Kondolf  413
xiv Contents

Geomorphic and hydrologic conditions for cold pool formation on Redwood Creek, California  Vicki L.Ozaki 415

8 DRAINAGE BASIN RESPONSE TO NATURAL AND ANTHROPOGENIC DISTURBANCE

Magnitude, cause and basin response to fluvial erosion, Redwood Creek basin, northern California  D.K.Hagans & W.E.Weaver 419

Residence times of channel-stored sediment in Redwood Creek, northwestern California  Mary Ann Madej 429

Bankfull discharge and sediment transport in northwestern California  K.M.Nolan, T.E.Lisle & H.M.Kelsey 439

Response of Dry Creek, California, to land use change, gravel mining and dam closure  Michael D.Harvey & Stanley A.Schumm 451

Sediment production and transport in the Phewa Valley, Nepal  W.J.H.Ramsay 461

Erosion and sedimentation caused by typhoons in 1982 in the Amahata River basin, Japan  Masamu Aniya 473

The erosion process in the middle and upper reaches of the Yangzi River  J.Li & K.Cheng 483

Landslide erosion in central Santa Cruz Mountains, California, USA  Gerald F.Wieczorek 489

Forestry and sediment yields in upland Scotland  Rob Ferguson, Tim Stott & Dick Johnson 499

Land use, erosion rates, and reservoir sedimentation in a coastal Ecuadorian watershed  William A.Fleming 501

Response of a northern California coastal drainage basin to land use disturbance  Darcia A.Short 503

Controls on the relation of streamside landsliding to channel sediment storage in a region of active uplift  Harvey M.Kelsey 505

The role of magnetic measurements in the development of a river basin erosional history  Richard D.La Ven, Frank R.Bickner & Pinchas Fine 507

Field methods used for monitoring erosion and sedimentation processes in steeplands of northwestern California, USA  William Weaver, Ronald Sonnevil & Randy Klein 509
